Fall River Women's RRS Program

A Long-Term Residential Rehabilitation Service Program

Serving Women with Substance Use Disorders and their Infants in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

What can I expect if I participate in the program?

The Fall River Women's Residential Rehabilitation Service Program provides 28 beds for women with substance use disorders and their infants. The Program is located in a three-story building which provides a comfortable, sober, home-like environment.

Consumers participate in the program from three to twelve months as they work on developing recovery skills and support systems. Consumers are also assisted with obtaining employment, entitlements, parenting skills, and living and coping skills as well as finding appropriate housing prior to discharge.

These skills, services, and supports empower consumers so they successfully transition into the community and experience long term sobriety and an improved quality of life.

Sometimes our lives have to be completely shaken up, changed, and rearranged to relocate us to the place we are meant to be. The Fall River Women's Residential Rehabilitation Service Program was the answer for me. My life has forever changed
