

Is this program right for me?

Have you every woken up feeling hungover, depressed and isolated, not knowing where you are, how you got there, or what you did last night?

Do you find yourself making irresponsible or reckless choices and suffering from negative consequences due to drug or alcohol use? Are you being told by family or friends about changes in your personality or ability to follow through on tasks and responsibilities? How do you function each day? Are you struggling to maintain a job or at risk of losing housing?

If these are some of the challenges that you are facing today, are you willing to make some changes and receive help?

Let the New Bedford Women's Program help you.

New Bedford Women's RRS Program

A Long-Term Residential Rehabilitation Service Program

Serving Women with Substance Use
Disorders and their Infants in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

What can I expect if I participate in the program?

The New Bedford Women's Residential Rehabilitation Service Program provides 21 beds for women and women with infants with substance use disorders. The Program is located in a three-story building which provides a comfortable, sober, home-like environment.

Consumers participate in the program from three to twelve months as they work on developing recovery skills and support systems. Consumers are also assisted with obtaining employment, entitlements, parenting skills, living and coping skills as well as finding appropriate housing prior to discharge.

These skills, services, and supports empower residents so they successfully transition into the community and experience long-term sobriety and an improved quality of life.

Steppingstone is providing me the support to overcome the most difficult time in my life. I now have hope for my future.

~ Margie
